

DISTRACTING ANTI AIRCRAFT DEFENDERS BY DROPPING BOMBS

(Correspondence Associated Press)

BEHIND BRITISH LINES IN FRANCE, June 21.—One of the most exciting tasks to which airmen are assigned is what is known as "desultory bombing" over one spot for an hour or more. The object is to distract the attention of the anti-aircraft defenders of a given district, and a machine carrying a dozen or more bombs is employed for the work.

At first the airmen, a pilot and an observer, approach their target cautiously. With engines throttled down, the craft glides nearer and nearer. Below all is quiet. No German searchlights are sweeping the sky. When the attackers are almost over their objective a rocket rises to ward them and bursts into cluster of red stars. The machine has been discovered. At once six or seven searchlights throw their beams aloft. The pilot looks at his watch; it is time to begin his desultory bombing.

He flies steadily on, although a barrage of bursting shells lies now in front of him. The observer looks through the wires of his bomb-sight to the ground below. At the proper instant he thrusts his lever forward and releases two bombs. A few seconds later he sees the flash of their explosions, and above the crackling barrage, he can hear two and the machine turns and sweeps away from the fiery ring of shells and searchlights.

A few miles away the airplane flies to and fro at top speed. The puzzled searchlights vainly feel the sky in all directions and then, one by one, are switched off.

Then the pilot quickly moves again toward the target. Another bomb is dropped. As it explodes the searchlights reappear and the barrage is renewed while through the thickly grouped shell bursts are dull roars. He signals to the pilot threaded the chains of green flaming globes, so much used by the Germans.

Again the machine flies away and this time, to bewilder still more the soldiers below, the observer fires a white Very light which slowly drifts below and fades out. All the searchlights follow it until it dies.

Repeatedly the airmen return to the attack. Bombs are dropped at intervals until the end of the hour when the machine departs, flickering fires and clouds of smoke telling of the havoc wrought by the bombs.

TEMPER OF ENGLISH GOVERNMENT TOWARD IRISH SLOWLY RISING

(Correspondence Associated Press)

DUBLIN, June 2.—Irish farmers have been the most backward of all classes in regard to recruiting for the army.

Standish O'Grady, a distinguished Irish writer, the author of several Irish novels and historical works, has issued a warning to them that, under the land purchase acts, they hold their lands by an act of the imperial parliament, that parliament has advanced over £100,000,000 for the purchase of the land from the landlords, has handed it over to thousands of peasant proprietors and is collecting from them the purchase money by annual instalments less in amount than their old rents.

Mr. O'Grady reminds the farmers that "in supporting an attempt to overthrow the authority of the imperial parliament they are trying to overthrow the very power to which they owe their existence as proprietors and which alone can maintain them in secure ownership."

"Is it likely," he asks, "that the imperial parliament having its hundreds of thousands of discharged, brave, loyal soldiers to provide for, will leave Ireland in the ownership of men, a mere class, who in this deadly crisis, this life and death struggle, are proving themselves foes of England, of Great Britain, of the British empire—which ought to be their Anglo-Irish empire—and of their great allied nations? They will not respect the brand new land titles which they themselves have made and can unmake."

"With every day that passes the temper of England is rising. Let it rise a little more and things will happen."

The question of their future fortunes as peasant proprietors has cer-

MOTORWOMEN TAKE OVER TRAIN CARS

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, July 23.—"Motorwomen" have arrived in London at last. In the provinces, notably in Glasgow, women have been on the front end of tramway cars for several years, but in London some of the city officials objected to them. The scarcity of men, however, has increased to such an extent that these objections were finally overcome.

The first women to actually run tramway cars appeared in the borough of Walthamstow a few days ago, and it is the intention of the tramway company officials to hire more women as rapidly as they can be trained. They are to receive the same wages as the men.

WOMEN RAISE MONEY FOR A SOLDIERS' CLUB

(By Associated Press)

YSLETA, Tex., July 23.—A khaki club has been opened here for the use of the soldiers on border patrol. The club is being conducted along similar lines to the one in El Paso and includes a reading and writing room and a pool room. The money for the club was raised by local women, assisted by farmers in the valley.
